

Cargo of the Welland Canal

Material Research

As a group, create a company specializing in a material that is commonly transported on cargo ships through the Welland Canal. Use this organizer to guide research on the material to provide background details when developing your company. Use books and websites to find as much information as possible.

